Define Problem Statements (Customer Problem Statement Template):

Patients often struggle to manage multiple doctor appointments, medication schedules, and personal health records. Many rely on paper prescriptions, manual reminders, or different applications, making it difficult to organize healthcare information efficiently. Missing appointments or medications can negatively impact health outcomes. Existing solutions frequently lack AI-powered medical summaries, centralized cloud storage, intelligent reminders, and predictive healthcare insights. To address these challenges, RK Health provides a centralized healthcare management platform that integrates appointment scheduling, medication reminders, Google Calendar, Twilio SMS notifications, AI-generated medical summaries, cloud-based health records, wearable device integration, advanced analytics, and predictive healthcare recommendations to improve patient care and healthcare management.
